

Hurricane Michael Update

October 11, 2018

Based on the latest weather information NSA has received, we are not anticipating any changes or delays to our scheduled service between Houston and San Juan.

The National Glory safely berthed at Houston's Jacintoport on Tuesday afternoon and is scheduled to depart on time for San Juan on Friday, the 12th.

If there are any weather-related changes to our schedule, you will be advised accordingly.

Visit our website